The general opinion tonight is that, while Wright fully deserved the verdict of guilty, the Judge's whole conduct of the case was most partial, and that while none of his co-directors was punished. Wright alone had to bear the entire punishment. Mrs. Wright, the widow, is in England.

SCORCHING CHARGE BY COURT

In summing up, Judge Bigham said he would ask the jury to find a general verdict of guilty or not guilty. If they were satisfied that Wright was guilty of one or more of these charges, they must not be deterred from finding a verdict of guilty by the suggestion that such a verdict would cast a stur on the memories of Lords Dufferir and Loch. It would not do anything of the kind. Their conduct was consistent in their having honerdy made mistakes.

Dealing with the evidence, Justice Bigham described as singular the way in which thousands of pounds of sterling became millions on paper, so far as the Lakeview shares were concerned.

The London & Glove and the Standard were gambling concerns which excited his indignation. In the course or his long experience, Justice Bighum said, he had never before heard of anything like the transactions which preceded the hopeless bankruptey of the London & Globe dancial corporation. He concluded his reference to Wright's career by referring to the position which the defendant claimed to have occupied in New York and Philical Corporation and the defendant claimed to have occupied in New York and Philical Corporation in the money and the found in his desire to maintain this position. At the same time, it was said that after the crash of the London & Globe financial corporation he found himself with $1,90,000 to $2,00,000 in worthless shares.

RISE AND FALL OF WRIGHT.

RISE AND FALL OF WRIGHT. Whitaker Wright was arrested in New York March 15, 1902. A warrant for his arrest had been issued in London five days previously, but Wright had already left for the United States. He was accused of absconding with funds of the London & Globe fluancial corporation, by which the stockholders lost more than III. 1906-09. 199. There were eleven of these, including the parent company, entitled the London & Globe Finance corporation, with a total capitalization of 190,000. Wright was managing director.

One of the victims of the crash was the late Marquis of Dufferin and Ava, formerly Governor-General of Canada, and later British Embassador at Paris. He consented to be chairman of the London & Globe, and had 25,000 shares in the different companies. With Lord Dufferin on the board of directors were Lleut.-Gen. Cough-Calthrop, who was Colonel of the Fifth Dragoon Obards, and Lord Edward William Pelham-Clinton, muster of Queen Victoria's household, son of the fifth Duke of Newastle, When the crash came Lord Dufferin was severely consured for his connection with the Wright companies, but, in a frank speech to the stockholders of the London & Globe, he declared his position and won the sympathy of his countrymen.

Much American money was lost in the future of the Wright companies. There was a great outery against the attitude of the authorities, in not prosecuting Wright and his foliow-directors, and a petition was circulaited on the London Stock exchange, signed by many influential men, demanding the prosecution of Wright.

For three or four days it was believed that a final agreement was very near at hand, but vesterday the situation became a little less hopeful Although this slightly unfavorable turn continues, it is hoped that it will prove a passing cloud, for the present situa-tion warrants neither optimistism nor pessimism being so evenly balanced that those intimately conversant with the negotiations are unable to definitely foresee the national result. Concerning Korea, Japan is showing great caution in accepting Russia's assurances of Japanese paramount au-thority in Korea. Therefore Japan feels that her safety requires the right to fortify the coast of southeast Korea, particularly Fusan, but Russia is unwilling to concede these, believing the effect will be to make the Sea of Japan a closed sea and that east Siberia would be perpetually cut off from the The issue appears to be one which af-fects the interests of the maritime powers as well as Russia. The lutter has rail outlets from the coast on the Sea of Japan, but the other powers are without such means of communication and, it would seem, have no interest in seeing that the entrance to the sea re-

Russia does not appear to object to the full liberty of Japanese coming or going individually for purposes of trade or otherwise, but she is unwilling to con-cede rights permitting Japanese settlements in villages similar to the foreign settlement at Shanghal.

There are still strong hopes that the parties may find means of adjusting these points, but for the present they constitute the main issues remaining

GETTING IMPATIENT.

Japan Intimates That Early Reply Is Desired. Toklo, Jan. 27.-The Japanese Government has diplomatically indicated to Baron de Rosen, the Russian Minister, that an early response is desired to Japan's recent note to Russia. It is calculated here that the Japanese note reached the Russian Cabinet on the afternoon of January 16th, and it is feit that sufficient time has clapsed for its consideration and the preparation of a response. The Japanese Government is conscious of the possible necessities of the military and naval situation, and is unwilling to permit evasions and delays which are designed to gain time. The future course of the Japanese Government is a carefully guarded secret. The length of time that Japan is prepared to await the pleusure of Russia is unknown. It seems probable that it has been determined to act decisively within a few days. The popular temper has long opposed further delay. Whilemany objected to Japan's taking the initiative, a majority would now welcome the issuance of a brief ultimatum and a declaration of war, if that should prove ineffective. Some outside opinion here inclines to the belief that the activities of Japan will be limited to the seizure of Korea, which enterprise it is thought Russit would not oppose. Arctic Weather Is Too Much for the Feathered Tribe in the East; Society Takes Action.

New York, Jan. 26.-The severe weather prevailing over a greater part of the country and the general heavy snowfall has caused great mortality among birds. In fact, the destruction of bird life has been so great that the national committee of the Audubon societies has been led to make an effort to prevent it, and has issued an appeal to the public, especially children, to care for the birds during the present excessively inclement weather.

The committee suggests that bone with scraps of meat, and pieces of suct be hung in orchards or door yards, and that broken nuts and corn, small grain, chaff and waste from the barn floor be scattered in places where it can easily be found by the birds,
